Said Tim Evans "This is a great result for Sunbury and Halliford. I am delighted to be elected as your County Councillor.

I will do my best to serve all residents of Lower Sunbury and Halliford and to maintain high quality services at best value cost for Council taxpayers
In talking to residents one subject kept recurring - ROADS!

From Harfield Road to Halliford Village and from Thames St to Sunbury Cross you told me of your concern at the dreadful condition of many roads or related issues such as speeding or bad parking. I promise to work with Surrey to make real improvements in this area.

Ian Harvey, newly elected Borough Councillor for Sunbury East shared Tim Evans' delight.

Ian said "I am delighted that the residents of Sunbury East have elected me to represent them. The theme of my campaign was 'to protect and improve the quality of life for Sunbury residents'.

I look forward to working to fulfil this, with a special emphasis on development, anti-social behaviour and travel / transport. These are the issues that you have told us are your main concerns. I will always welcome feedback on local issues, whether it is a general comment, regarding a specific problem or a suggestion.

Thank you for electing me and I look forward to making a positive difference to Sunbury, our home, and to serving you in the future."

Draft EU referendum bill

David Cameron has said that if he is Prime Minister, there will be an in-out referendum in the next Parliament.

And as the Prime Minister has said, in this Parliament we will look at all options to underline the fact that our commitment to the referendum is absolute.

That's why the Conservative Party has published a draft bill to legislate in this Parliament for an in-out referendum before the end of 2017.

We will be working with James Wharton as he brings our draft bill before Parliament as a private member's bill.

We know there are MPs in other parties who also believe that the British people should be given a choice on our country's membership of the EU, and so we urge them to back the bill.

But if other parties do not back it, people will be able to see that only the Conservative Party is offering an in-out referendum and that the two other mainstream parties, Labour and the Liberal Democrats, oppose an in-out referendum.

Sunbury is Conservative again!

With the recent election victories of Tim to Surrey County Council and Ian to Spelthorne Borough Council all but one of Sunbury and Halliford's Councillors are Conservatives again.

All three Sunbury East Ward Councillors are Conservative
