"Labour Disgrace" say local Conservatives. Stanwell improvements wrecked by Labour Councillor's neglect!

Labour County Councillor Robert Evans has thrown away the chance to spend over £11,000 on much needed local projects and improvements for Stanwell.

Evans, a Weybridge resident and Surrey County Councillor has failed to allocate these funds to his electors this year. County Councillor financial grants are important as they help fund local projects and regeneration. Because Robert Evans did not allocate them and they cannot be carried forward they are now lost to the people of Stanwell forever.

Local Conservative campaigner and council candidate Richard Barratt said "I'm shocked that Labour seems to have 'forgotten' about the people who elected them! Going door to door there are almost endless opportunities for small but important fixes to benefit the whole community. I use budgets all the time in the course of my work and there can be no excuse for losing people's money like this".

Mike Brennan, Deputy Chairman of Spelthorne Conservative Association said "This is yet another example of Labour disgrace and how you can't trust Labour with tax payers money"
